

Quality and Productivity Improvement for Enterprise Competitiveness (Basic Kaizen)(A)

Código de Beca: 3728

Nombre: Quality and Productivity Improvement for Enterprise Competitiveness (Basic Kaizen)(A)

Descripción: Background

People of developing countries and emerging nations seek for knowledge concerning Japan Brand, and the principles and the methodologies of quality control and production improvement for manufacturing (Monozukuri) which have been systematized in the long history of Japan. JICA has also promoted vitalization of private enterprises and local businesses through human resource development in the industries and upgrading the industrial technologies. To develop supporting industries and enhance the competitiveness of small and medium-sized enterprises are some of the most crucial development issues at emerging nations and developing countries and it is also anticipated that they would contribute to expanding businesses in their nations where Japanese companies, especially manufacturing industries, move into.

For what?

In order to improve the productivity of manufacturing companies, this training course aims to develop human resources responsible for dissemination of quality control, productivity improvement and facility maintenance management that are accustomed in Japan.

For whom?

This program is offered to 1) Skill dissemination officers of manufacturing industrial association and 2) Governmental officials in charge of promotion of manufacturing.

How?

With a view to realizing productivity improvement, it is important to have not only specific manufacturing skills but also a holistic production system by effectively coordinating respective technologies. A manufacturing industry's strength can be measured by the prices, the qualities and the delivery time of their products. The business organizations' activities are to improve the abovementioned indices which lead to the reinforcement of their competitiveness. The participants will learn quality control, productivity improvement measures, stable operation policies and facility maintenance management from lectures from online training, practices and virtual site observations at several companies from Japan.

In online training, participants and instructors connect in real time to give lectures and discussions, and mainly learn the basics and theory parts. In addition, homework (submission of assignments) and short test will improve your understanding.
